DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK.

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

THAT what most business concerns wish for most is for more frequent visits from their customers. It takes frequent visitors to build better business.

The way to get frequent visits is to advertise goods and service that give perfect satisfaction.

Modern concerns who are persistent advertisers are usually the ones who sell the best in quality—the kind that gives more and better service.

Well advertised quality is the kind that looks and acts the part.
Wise business concerns never cut down advertising to cut down expenses. They increase advertising to increase business.

Winners in the race for better business keep ahead by going after business aggressively all the time; they never take any resting periods. No business can stop advertising and prosper.

There is desirable business for those concerns who go after it and stay after it.

THE SELLING OF MERCHANDISE OR SERVICE IS BEST DONE
BY AN ORGANIZED COMBINATION OF QUALITY, SERVICE AND ADVERTISING.

ADVERTISING MAKES IT EASIER TO DO A VOLUME BUSI-NESS. THE DRIVING FORCE OF ADVERTISING DRIVES BUSI-NESS IN.

Phone 127 and let us help you plan your advertising.

JUDGE THOS. D. COBBS

Candidate for Judge Fourth Court
of Civil Appeals, San Antonio.

B. McClain of San Antonio and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Boehle and family of Quihi visited Brackett and Del Rio Tuesday of last week. Mr. Boehle reports crop conditions poor all the way up and says a trip across the river to Villa Acuna for himself and Mr. McClain didn't make things look any different.

JUDGE W. O. MURRAY

Candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, Fourth Supreme Judicial District.

At Tuesday's luncheon, the committee on radio advertising was not ready to report and was granted more time. A letter from the management of WOAI of San Antonio,
asking Hondo to put on a program
from that station was read and a program committee appointed by the President of the Club.

BAPTIST NEWS NOTES

Full schedule of services resumed at the Baptist church. Excepting the morning service on Sunday, the Baptists have dismissed all services in order to attend the revival services at the Methodist church. We now resume our regular schedule for the entire week. The Bible school meets at 10 o'clock Sunday mornings. Due to the unusual heat, some of our children have been kept away. We trust we shall have a full attendance during the summer months. We have a line of great studies in the Old Testament
for the weeks immediately before us.
At eleven o'clock Sunday morning
next, the Pastor will preach on "The Right and A Wrong View of Life and Death." Loose living and tragic dying seem to have become a horrible aspect of our modern world. The public generally are invited to come and join in a study of this important matter. The night service is also resumed. Come to the night service, which in all probability will be held on the lawn on the east side of the meeting house. Here it will be cool and inviting.

Also the midweek hour of worship
Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.
Let all of our people gather for this free and social hour to study the Book of Books. Let us all adopt the spirit of Job, who, in the midst of his great affliction, said: "though He slay me, yet will I trust Him".

The Junior B. Y. P. U., the G. A.'s and Sunbeams have their regular weekly meeting as usual. Also the Women's Missionary Society. The Pastor greatly appreciates the work of the Leaders of the organizations.

"Let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap,
if we faint not."

Rev. R. W. Merrill.

NEW FOUNTAIN METHODIST.

Paper: "The Jesus Way of Life",
Mrs. Andrew Muennink.

Recitation, Mrs. Clarence Muennink.

Talk: "The Unfinished Task", Luella Wiemers.

Offering.

Song.

Benediction.

Wednesday night service at 8:30,
after which will be Choir practice.

Make all these services your services.

YOUNG DOUG IN "UNION DEPOT"

Manager Jennings of the Colonial Theatre is pleased to announce the coming Saturday and Sunday of the much heralded "Union Depot," the First National and Vitaphone production starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and featuring the charming Joan Blondell.

This is the first time the youthful favorites have been cast together, and all who see them—as the gay hobo who is a 'gentleman' for a day and the stranded small-town actress he aids—will hope it may not be the last.
"Union Depot" is a rare combination of comedy, romance and thrills. Its exciting scenes are laid in a vast railway station. Beside the large cast which takes part in the story itself,
many well-know screen people portray characters in the crowd of travelers.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The Pastor of the Episcopal church
Mission of Hondo, the Rev. H. N.
Herndon of Uvalde, will be here next Sunday afternoon for a service of worship. On the 3rd floor of the Leinweber Building, the Chapel room of the Mission, the Pastor will conduct the Episcopal Church service and preach at 3 o'clock. All members of the congregation are urged to be present and everyone of Hondo and vicinity are most cordially invited to attend.

Candidate for Re-election as Representative

A. P. JOHNSON
Carrizo Springs, Texas

Seeks re-election as Representative of the 77th Representative District, composed of Dimmit, Zavala, Medina and Uvalde counties.

Your Vote and Influence is Respectfully Solicited on My Record.

I FAVOR.

Abolishing the present system of State ad valorem tax, which will result in much greater relief than the $3,000.00 homestead exemption,
which I also favor.

Using part of the present 4c gas tax to take up county and district road bonds used in building State and Federal highways.

A policy of constructing highways
out of such domestic products and material as will build in a near-permanent way the greatest number of miles for the least amount of money.

Consolidating boards, departments and agencies of government, and in order to bring this about I supported a resolution providing a special committee to investigate and report feasible economies and consolidations to the next legislature.

Tax relief to the over-burdened taxpayer, to effect which I supported a resolution for legislative tax survey committee to investigate and report best method of tax equalization to
the next legislature.

Maintaining the present school census enumeration on the basis of actual number of children instead of on attendance basis. A bill changing to attendance was introduced in last regular session of the legislature and I made an argument against it before the committee on education, where it was killed.

ABOUT GRAIN STORAGE.

Many wheat growers apparently have decided this is the year to store their wheat crop on the farm for marketing later when the present
wheat stocks are exhausted according to the Columbian Steel Tank Company of Kansas City, manufacturers of the well known Red Top Bin, and represented in Medina County
by Louis Carle Co., D'Hanis, Texas. This company reports that grain bin sales have been far above expectations considering the year which certainly belies the idea that there is no money in the country for products that are needed.

With last minute estimates placing the 1932 wheat crop fully one third less than last year and at least 150 million bushels lower than the average for the last ten years, wheat stored safely on the farm may be a good money crop before another season rolls around in the opinion of most market experts.

MEDINA COUNTY AID SOCIETY.

At a called meeting of the membership of the Medina County Aid Society, held at the Courthouse last Saturday afternoon, June 18, 1932,
a large percentage being present, it was moved, seconded and carried that the $2.00 per annum assessment proposed be adopted but directors to hold same in abeyance for ninety days, the membership attending pledging themselves and requesting all members to try and get at least one new applicant, son, daughter or kinsman or otherwise, the initiation fee being suspended and only $1.00
be collected for first mortuary at death. The Secretary is to send out application blanks for that purpose to all members.

A DINNER.

The following enjoyed a grand dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Otto here Sunday, June 12: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Partholmes, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred and Aubrey Otto and Miss Matilda Otto from San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Prinz, Sr., from the Palo Alto Ranch, J. F. Reus and son, Jake, from Hondo, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haas and daughter, Miss Meda, and son, Oswald, Messrs. Oscar Kosey from D'Hanis, Henry Lehr and Henry Haas, Oscar Reicherzer and Edward Biediger from here.

All departed at a late hour hoping to have another such dinner real soon.

BARBECUE DINNER.

A number of relatives and friends enjoyed a barbecue dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Weiblen on Sunday, June 12th, 1932, which was given in honor of the Communists, Misses Martia Weiblen and Lena Geiger and Messrs. Herbert Weiblen and Henry Geiger.

The afternoon was well away by playing games, conversation and singing.

At 4 o'clock a luncheon, consisting of cake and lemonade, was served.

CONFIRMATION CELEBRATION.

On Sunday, June 12th, a large dinner was given in Naegelin's beautiful and shady pecan bottom honoring Misses Gladys and Alice App on their confirmation day.

The dinner consisted of barbecue, salads, pickles, cakes and various refreshments.

The afternoon was passed away in playing games, swimming, kodakim, and conversation. In the evening a fine supper was served.

Ed. Kempf from Atascosa was a short visitor here Monday.

George Echtle and son, Henry J., were San Antonio visitors Tuesday.

Alfred Rihn from Riomedina was a business visitor here Monday.

Max Bischoff of Dunlay was a visitor at our office Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Mechler and Miss Eva Halty from the Sauz were San Antonio visitors last Saturday.

Messrs. Fritz Weiblen and John Geiger were San Antonio visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. W. H. McCullers from the O'Brien Park was a LaCoste visitor Wednesday.

Paul Tschirhart, manager of Wernette's Garden Dance Hall was a visitor here Wednesday.

Henry Gross was in town from his ranch below D'Hanis, leaving again Wednesday.

Mrs. Emil Mangold and daughter, Miss Lillian, and son, Alton, from the Sauz were visitors here Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. K. Konzack from Castroville were visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Geiger and family here last Friday evening.

August Schmitt was visiting relatives here last Thursday. Mr. Schmitt is staying with his wife in San Antonio where she is recovering from automobile injuries received several weeks ago.

George Grossenbacher from San Antonio is spending his summer vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mangold and family at the Sauz.

Mrs. Emil Mangold and daughter Miss Lillian, and son, Archib., and George Grossenbacher from the Sauz were San Antonio visitors Wednesday.

Ralph Tschirhart and daughter and sister, Miss Helen Tschirhart, from Castroville were visitors here Tuesday.

Mrs. Clarence Bristow and children from McAllen are visiting Mrs. Bristow's mother, Mrs. Lena Reicherzer, here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tragester, managers of the Electric Park Hall at Castroville, the grandest dance pavilion in this section, were visitors here and in San Antonio Tuesday.

Dr. J. W. Jones left here Wednesday for Arkansas to see a sick brother for a month. While up there he will attend the National Medical Association at Little Rock, Arkansas, on June 21 to 24th. The Doctor will be back about July 15th at the latest.

Commissioner A. G. Trawalter of San Antonio was a LaCoste visitor Monday. While out this way he inspected the new kind of tapping, recently put on the LaCoste-Madonna Highway, which the Commissioner says is being watched by the Highway Department and if it holds up as claimed will afford cheaper road material and a better one in many ways.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Haas, Jr., proprietors of the Haas Tourist Cabins and picnic and swimming grounds at Castroville beneath the Bridge, were appreciated callers at our office Wednesday. Mr. Haas announces that he will have to make a small charge for bathing privileges, which includes bathhouse and locker, for the maintenance of equipment, etc. Mr. Haas has one of the prettiest recreation spots in the country, lots of shade, neat cabins, bathhouse and swimming equipment. Pay them a visit.

A grand barbecue dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mangold at their home at the Sauz last Sunday to a number of their friends.

Another deficiency recently discovered in Texas is that there is no manufacturing plant in the State in which cotton chopping hoes are made. The discovery followed an inquiry to Progressive Texans, Inc., from a wholesale concern which handles such articles and which was anxious to buy them in Texas if possible. Effort to locate such a factory failed and the orders from the wholesaler will have to be sent to a factory in another State. Texas uses more of such hoes than any other State in the South.

BUSINESS PAPER DEMANDS HONEST MONEY.

A vigorous drive demanding that the United States Government reverse the ruinous deflation policy of its reserve banks and financial institutions has been conducted for some months by the Standard Farm Papers, and their stand is being supported by publications in other fields. The current issue of The Progressive Farmer-Ruralist quotes the following from the Business Week probably the ablest business men's magazine in America:

"The only remaining road to recovery for ourselves and the world is by concerted and courageous action, through governments and central banks, to raise the commodity price level and reduce the value of gold to the level at which it was when the bulk of the world's public and private debt burdens were contracted. Otherwise universal bankruptcy, default, and repudiation are unavoidable."

"Every means to accomplish this purpose is justified, and every influence the United States can exert in this direction as the most powerful financial force in the world today is indispensable. If it cannot be done by action of central banks, or collateral agencies like the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, in forcing credit expansion through ordinary banking channels, it must come through deliberate devaluation or direct inflation of currency."

ATTENTION, AMBITIOUS YOUNG PEOPLE!

We have for sale $95.00 Scholarship to Byrne Commercial College. This scholarship is transferrable and will be honored at its face value or any course or courses offered in Byrne College.

Never before has there been a more opportune time to go to school. Board is cheap and in most cases the student is able to earn all his board and room.

For particulars Call or Write the HONDO ANVIL HERALD, Hondo, Texas, or anyone of the Five Byrne Colleges—San Antonio—Ft. Worth—Houston—Oklahoma City—Dallas.

The yearly per capita consumption of canned food has risen steadily until it is now estimated at fifty-four cans per person. Growth of the food canning industry is indicated by the increase from 41,000 tons a year twenty-five years ago to more than 200,000 tons in 1931. Texas stands thirty-fifth in the commercial food canning industry.

In the purebred Jersey herd owned by E. W. Bradley, Dublin, one of the young cows, Oxford's Combination's Fern, has won the American Jersey Cattle Club Silver Medal for her creditable yield of 557.53 lbs. of butterfat, 11,020 lbs. of milk in a 305-day official test, started when she was 3 years and 8 months of age.

FROM YANCEY.

Summer weather has come, the days are exceedingly hot until sundown. We need rain very badly. Had a strong wind blowing down trees and unroofing sheds last Thursday morning.

Messrs. T. H. Roensch, F. W. Bohmfalk and Frank Ward accompanied about 24 of the school boys to Montel on a fishing trip, leaving Tuesday morning and returning Friday afternoon. On Thursday Mr. H. G. Wilson also motored to the camp and spent the day with the crowd. Mr. Wilson did not forget that the boys did not leave their sweet tooth at home and took a generous supply of ice cream, candy and pecans, which the boys enjoyed very much. Plenty of fish were caught to supply each meal.

Mrs. T. H. Roensch and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Parrish and family of Houston spent Thursday and Friday at the fishing camp at Montel.

Little Clarence Ray, a seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bohmfalk took suddenly sick last Tuesday and developed lock jaw, and all that loving hands and medical skill could do was of no avail. His suffering ended Friday morning, and the remains were brought to the cemetery here and were tenderly laid to rest. A large crowd assembled to express their kind sympathy to the bereaved family. Rev. Nelson, the Baptist pastor, preached the funeral.

Mrs. Louis Ward and children of San Antonio, who spent last week here with relatives, returned to their home Sunday.

Dr. Beall of Pearsall paid a professional visit to Mrs. Louise Ward, who has been under his care for some time.

We are glad to report Miss Laura Francis Wilson better. She has been on the indisposed list for some time.

Lloyd Bohmfalk has been on the sick list for several days with fever and other complications, but is improving.

Mr. J. P. Nixon has been a little indisposed during last week and we are glad he is somewhat improved.

Rev. and Mrs. Shine and Mrs. Sneed returned from a ten days visit at Georgetown and San Marcos.

Mrs. W. B. Andrews is visiting Mrs. G. G. Wilson this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Duncan were Somerset visitors last week. They were accompanied by their niece, Miss Margaret Hoke, who spent the week with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bohmfalk wish to express their gratitude to all who so kindly assisted in the illness of their little son, Clarence Ray, and also to all who attended the funeral ceremonies and all who spoke words of comfort to their sorrowing home. The beautiful floral offerings were appreciated, and the kind and sympathetic words by Rev. Nelson, the expressions of kindness will always be gratefully remembered.

Dates for the 46th annual Fair of Texas at Dallas, have been set for Oct. 8 to 23, inclusive, it has been announced by Otto Herold, president of the exposition.

FARM LOANS

The Hondo National Farm Loan Association, H. E. Haass, Sec-Treasurer, Hondo, Texas, representing 286 growers with $1,483,480.00 borrowed is prepared to make farm loans where in Medina County under Federal Farm Loan Act at 5 percent interest and 1 per cent 36 month amortization repayment plan. Six thousand Texas farmers have taken advantage of this system borrowing over two hundred million dollars.

ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. Harmless, and tasteless, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts. Be sure to get the genuine.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior tooth-paste that safeguards against acid-mouth.

FARM MODEL FOR BIG LAND OWNER.

There is farming is not a great different in methods than success in other lines of business or enterprises. At least that is the belief of Mr. Richardz, successful farmer and operator who operates 2,000 acres of land on Sabinal on the highway. And his land shows
the results of this statement.
It is perhaps a little easier to be a sure crop here than in many other sections of the country. Mr.
Richardz says there is nothing to take the place of hard work, intelligent management and economical operation. This will also apply to any business, he says. He is qualified to talk as a farmer because at the age of 8 years he began farming
on his father's land in the Canyon. At the age of 21 he purchased his first 200
acres of land. Today he has his farm of 2,000 acres, and an additional 2,500-acre ranch a distance away from the farm which is leased to a San Antonio man. These lands are all paid for. He also has 630 head of registered sheep, including one Angora goat, for which he paid $800, and by the way, is not for sale,
all farm equipment, tenant
houses, water wells and windmills.
No man can make a success at farming without a lot of hard work,"
he told this writer who asked the question of "Why are there so few failures among farmers?" He said there were as many failures
among merchants and professional men as there were among farmers,
both were due to the same causes.

Livestock and Feed Crops.
There is not a tractor on the farm place, and likely never will be as long as he is in control. He gives several reasons why he is predicted to grow mules for farm work.
Farmer can raise feed for his mules, and he can also raise his own mules, which Mr. Richardz does—and the mighty fine ones.

The first cost of a tractor is only the beginning of the expense," he said. "Immediately after its purchase
there is a value almost one-half of the cost to buy for
it. It can be raised on every farm.
It comes repairs and an experienced man to handle it during certain seasons. There are several months of the year that a tractor cannot be used in cultivating the crops so the machine is stored and the experienced operator must be laid off under the tree for its use comes around again."

A good farmer can raise his own feed which he can use throughout the year at breaking, cultivating, harrowing and hauling. He can also raise his own feed at a nominal cost.
The older a mule becomes the better he is for work, of course that applies up to a certain age, probably around 10 to 14 years old. The mule must be replaced in a very few years at a large outlay," he said.

Believing that feed crops bring better prices when fed to livestock and sold through them than any other manner. He has planted 10 acres of the 2,000-acre ranch to corn, oats, cane, maize, grain, sorghum and sudan grass for grazing.
There is always plenty of feed for the ranch as well as a large surplus each year for market.

While low prices for all farm commodities, with correspondingly low prices for sheep, goats and cattle, are crippled or held back all this year, Mr. Richardz expressed the belief that prices would soon be on the upgrade and the producer who keeps tight, keeps working to produce and takes care of what he does produce, will soon begin to "cash in"
on his crops.

One would be forced to drive a long distance to find a better equipment or better managed farm-ranch
than that of Oscar Richardz. In making a round over the big 2,000-acre farm-ranch just like he has long owned he would like to own. Everything had received ample cultivation.
There were no weeds to be found along the long rows. The tenant houses were well built, painted and clean. Ample water supply from wells with windmills, storage tanks, etc., were available at all buildings and feed lots. The grass was luxuriant and green, and the sheep, goats, cattle and mules were all fat and in good condition. And we found three tenant families all contented with their situation and with their treatment and care of the crops produced.

Plenty of Work.
While the writer was day-dreaming about owning such a farm plant when Mr. Richardz reiterated his statement that it takes lots of work to make a success, by stating that he and his tenants arose about 4 a. m., the field by break of day. With a short intermission for lunch at the noon hour, all hands were back at work until sundown. All of which reminded the writer that this program

was repetition of the life of a country weekly newspaper man—all except the work out in the hot sunshine, and many newspaper folk even have to work at night part of the time in order to keep up with their "crop".

Mr. Richardz believes that 100 acres is sufficient for the average family
to attempt to farm in the Sabinal section. The land should be prepared before Christmas and then planting should begin shortly thereafter. If the land and crops are properly cultivated from that time on, he believes the work will keep an average family plenty busy.

He also advocates a few hogs,
cows, chickens, and a good garden and a few stands of berries. Home canning of garden vegetables will also help the average family, particularly during a period such as we are going through at this time. He practices just what he preaches.

Mrs. Richardz and the three daughters preside over a pretty and efficient farm or ranch home as can be found anywhere in Texas and still have time from their canning, and home work and to plant and care for a large yard of beautiful flowers and a small orchard.

Mr. Richardz declares that he has never lost a crop and has never lost a dollar on a tenant. He furnishes good work stock, farm equipment,
water supply and then insists that they work to make a good crop for themselves.

While Mr. Richardz is a very busy man overseeing and working on his 4,500 acres of ranch and farm lands,
his varied interests in sheep and goat
raising, his wool and mohair crops
and his cattle interests, he still takes an active interest in civic and school affairs of his community. He is secretary of the Trio Independent school district and has the confidence and respect of his neighbors for his wise leadership and active public works.—Sabinal Sentinel.

: SENSE :
ETHICS OF BANKING
By MELVIN A. TRAYLOR
President
First National Bank, Chicago

We must not take unfair advantage of our competitors. It is entirely proper
for us by legitimate means to obtain all
the business that we can, but in doing
so we ought to do nothing that will injure our competitors and that will
in any way aid to destroy the confidence which the banks must repose in each other and which the community at large must repose in the banks as a whole if we are going to thrive, and remember always we cannot thrive separately. We shall either all thrive together or all suffer disaster.

Sentiment in Banking
No sentiment in banking? Will you recall just one day's activity at your desk—what were the problems you considered? Did they apply solely to the cold-blooded conduct of the affairs of your bank, weighing, measuring, analyzing, valuing securities, extending credit, driving the best bargains possible, having in mind only the material return from your day's labor? Certainly such is not the case. I recall many days—happy days, too—in my experience in a very small country bank, in which I am sure not one-tenth of my time was given to the real consideration of the financial returns to my institution.

Open Markets
I believe in an open market for the actual purchase and sale both of commodities and securities. But so long as the actual rate for credit in this country swings up and down according to the demand for funds for speculative purposes, little influenced by central or other banking policy, then something is wrong somewhere. Moreover, if business is influenced—as is almost universally charged—by the state of public mind; and if the state of public mind is influenced, as in recent years it most certainly has been,
to run the scale from extreme optimism
to extreme pessimism according to the characters on a ticker tape, then something is wrong with the public mind, or the conduct of the forces back of the tape. Those responsible must provide the answer.

The Texas Gauze Mill, New Braunfels, has been in continuous day and night operations for the past twelve months manufacturing surgical gauze

CENSUS REPORTS FARM ACREAGE AND VAL-UES IN TEXAS.

According to a bulletin recently issued by the Bureau of the Census,
there are 495,489 farms in the State of Texas having a total acreage of 124,707,130, and a total value, including land, buildings, and implements and machinery, of $3,779,593, 795. These figures are given in detail for each county and minor civil division within the State. This is the first Federal census report to show these figures by minor civil divisions.

Of the total farm acreage 21.6 per cent, or 20,634,370 acres, was crop land on which crops were harvested
in 1929; 1.9 per cent, or 2,328,222
acres, was crop land which lay idle
or fallow; and 1.4 per cent, or 1,803, 574 acres, was land on which the crops failed to mature or were not harvested for any cause. Pasture land with a total of 86,942,437 acres, representing 69.7 per cent of the total farm acreage of the State, including 11,156,355 acres of plow-able land, 14,449,011 acres of woodland, and 61,337,071 acres of other land. In addition to the land cropped and pastured, the total land in farms included 1,240,472 acres of woodland not used for pasture, and 1,758,055 acres not in forest, pasture,
or crops, including the land occupied
by house yards, barnyards, feed lots, lanes, roads, etc.

The total value of farm land and buildings was $3,597,406,986, of which $534,537,451 represented the value of all farm buildings, including the farmers' dwellings, which were valued at $351,008,434. The value of farm implements and machinery, including farmers' automobiles, was $182,186,809.

COMFORT
for COLICKY BABIES
THROUGH CASTORIA'S
GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic,
doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste.
But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time
Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.
For years it has helped mothers
through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever.

Precinct Chairman Wilfred Wet-

here Monday and with the County Chairman arranged the Democratic ballot for the July 23 primary election. The state ticket is a lengthy one, due mainly to the large number of candidates for Congressman-at-Large; there are twelve candidates for district offices; and none for county or precinct places. As the candidates for state offices are exempt from county expense assessments, district candidates pay only $1.00 each, and there are no county candidates to assess, the committee finds itself with some twelve or fourteen dollars on hand where from fifty to seventy-five dollars is needing their two primaries without pay

Having announced as a Candidate for the Legislature, I deem it but proper that I should outline my platform.

If elected I promise to use all my efforts to pass some relief legislation in behalf of the small farmer who has to compete with the "high powered" big boys planting truck by the thousand acres, thereby putting the small farmer entirely out of business. My remedy in this matter is a graduated tax on truck products increased according to amount raised. The same kind of tax to also apply to cotton and oil. Unless the farmer gets relief he is a "blowed up sucker".

During my previous services in the Legislature I saved to the State more than a million dollars through recovery of state lands.

I am opposed to any more restrictive laws and favor the repeal of many now existing.

I likewise stand for economy in all matters calling for the spending of the taxpayers' money.

Think well of these matters before you vote.
Your vote and support are respectfully solicited and will be appreciated.

J. F. HARRIS, SR.
Crystal City, Zavala County, Texas.

J. F. Harris, Sr., a former Representative in the Legislature from this District and a candidate for the place again at the July 23rd primary,
was here Friday of last week interviewing the voters. Mr. Harris is an experienced legislator, having served in the House during the first administration of Governor Ferguson and stuck to the Governor through all his troubles. Mr. Harris' visit to Medina County was necessarily brief
last week, but he left very cheerful
in the hope of the continued fidelity
of his Medina County friends.

Hon. J. C. Fuller of Marfa was in Hondo for a brief visit Friday of last week. Mr. Fuller is one of three opponents running against Dr. Benjamin Franklin Berkeley present incumbent and candidate for re-election to the office of State Senator for the 29th Senatorial District. Mr.
Fuller is a pleasant gentleman and made a favorable impression on the few of our citizens whom he had time
to meet.

Representative A. P. Johnson was here during the week looking after his political fences and arranging for a speaking itinerary over this section.
Mr. Johnson has represented this district for several terms and has been strongly endorsed by his colleagues for speaker of the next House.

A large party composed of officers and assisted in conferring several degrees. They report a most enjoyable proved themselves splendid hosts.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

"Examine yourselves whether be in the faith; prove your selves." Corinthians 13:5.

"But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily,
and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body." Cor. 11, 28-29.

"But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts; and be ready always to give an answer to every man that ask-you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear." 1 Pe-3:15.

In full accord with God's Word and the practice of the Lutheran church
we shall have a public examination
the young confirmants on Sunday morning, June 29, beginning at 10 o'clock. Members and friends of the church are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to become more enlightened in regard to Scriptural doctrine. Visitors are cordially invited to be present. Please note the time of service, which is unusual.
There will be no service at night.

The general public is heartily invited to join us on the Church Law
for a patriotic celebration and society on Wednesday, June 29. In honor of the Father of our Country, George Washington, as well as in commemoration of Independence Day, an appropriate program has been arranged.
Our aim was to secure a good speaker, and we feel confident that you will both enjoy and profit by the address delivered by the director of Lutheran College at Seguin, Professor Wm. F. Kraushaar, M. A. The speaker has traveled extensively and is a man of varied experiences. A few years ago he journeyed to mission field on the island of New Guinea, 10,000 miles distant, and after a year of inspection, returned by way of Palestine. Professor Kraushaar is a loyal Texan and a true patriot, who is engaged in building good characters and useful lives. Your time will be well spent. The day is Wednesday, June 29, at 8 P. M. In addition to the speaker, several musical selections will be rendered by the choir, and instrumental number will also appear on the program with appropriate readings. After the program, refreshments will be served at a nominal price. We invite your presence.

IN TROUBLE.

A. F. Leinweber, former employee of the Del Rio National Bank, was given a hearing before Federal Commissioner C. D. Smith Monday afternoon on the charge of misappropriating $2,076.77. The bond was set at $10,000 and had not been made at noon Thursday. The case will be presented to the Federal grand jury in Del Rio next October.

According to Judge Smith the accused man said he was guilty, adding that he did not want a lawyer and would like to start his sentence now.

Mr. Leinweber surrendered to the sheriff of Medina County in Hondo Monday and was placed in jail in Del Rio Monday afternoon.

Bank officials report that the entire shortage charged to Mr. Leinweber is around $7,200. The bank will lose nothing, however, since Mr. Leinweber was under a $30,000 bond. The bonding company will pay the bank every cent of the shortage, it was stated Tuesday.—Val Verde County Herald.

QUIHI NOTES.

"Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." Heb. 11,3.

Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday school meets Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. It is sincerely hoped that all teachers, pupils and friends will be present. Pupils who are on the Quihi 4th of July program will have an opportunity to recite their respective numbers.

Divine service in St. John's Lutheran church at New Fountain will be held at 10 o'clock A. M. Aside of all members, all friends and neighbors are cordially invited to be present and worship the Lord.

At 8 o'clock P. M. divine service in the English tongue will be held in Bethlehem Lutheran church at Quihi. A cordial invitation to come and join in at this service is extended to all.

Last Wednesday night an enjoyable and interesting membership social was staged in the Quihi parish hall. The large turn out of members and their escorts taxed the hall's capacity. After a brief business meeting an interesting and lively bunco game was indulged in. The first prize on the gents' side went to Clarence Bohlen, the second to Marvin Grell and the beautiful booty to Mr. Otto Lindeburg. On the ladies' side the first prize was won by Mrs. Rolf Saathoff, the second by Miss Alma Grell, while the priceless booty went to Mrs. Alfred Boehle. A splendid luncheon served in the latest approved style was the last number on the program and reflected much credit on the arrangement committee.

Last Sunday afternoon the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Balzen of Sturm Hill received the sacrament of holy baptism in Bethlehem Lutheran church. The little lady received the name of Fay Edrice and had for sponsors her maternal grandparents.

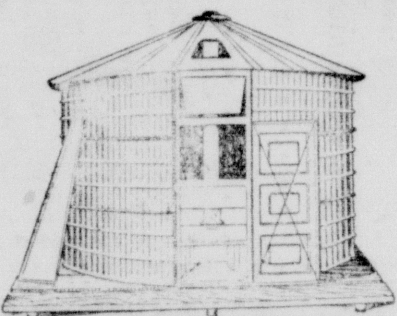

The program of the Quihi community 4th of July celebration contains the following numbers: Several selections by the trained Quihi church choir, declamations by Edna Loessberg, Mabel Lindeburg, Lucile Boehle, Irene Nietenhoefer and Elsie Boehle; a selection by the Quihi Male Chorus led by Mr. Frank Boehle, select readings by Misses Pauline Graff and Lillian Schuehle, a dialogue by Nora and Anna Brucks, and instrumental selections by Misses Eileen Hartman and Eline Saathoff. The speaker of the day will be Rev. W. L. Leibfarth of Hondo. The grounds, Boehle's Grove at Quihi, will be opened at 9 o'clock A. M. and the program begins at 2 o'clock P. M. A cordial invitation to come with your families, friends and neighbors is extended to all.

The wealth of Texas (U. S. Census 1922), was $9,850,888,000. The wealth of New England—geographically of about the same area—in the same report is placed at $24,414,316,000. The difference in industrial development is the main factor in the difference. Texas has 131,503 industrial wage-earners (1930 census), New England 1,100,943. Texas industrial payroll is $147,888,052; New England $1,345,092,011.

CANARIES TRIM VETERANS AND BLUES.

Case's Canaries snapped out of a huddle into a winning stride the past week, winning two straight games, one from the Blues and the other off the Vets.

In Thursday's game the Canaries trimmed the Veterans by the score of 6 to 1, getting 6 hits off Smith, while the Vets collected but 3 hits off of Lamb.

The Canaries played a good game making two double plays and very few errors and showed great improvement over their previous games. Herbert Lamb, canary hurler, clouted out a home run in the fourth inning with the bases loaded to score four runs.

Double plays: Filleman-Earnest-Montel, Earnest-Montel.

In Tuesday's game the Canaries trimmed the Magnolia Blues by the lop-sided score of 12 to 1.

The Canaries collected 8 hits off Embury and Rath while the Blues were allowed but four hits off Lamb. B. Schweers, with 2 triples; Dr. Meyer with a single and a triple and Montel with 2 singles and a home run led at the bat.

COSTS HER $4.25 TO REDUCE 65 POUNDS

"Worth It," Miss Bates Says.

If you're young and fat read what Miss Bates of Beech, Iowa, has to say about Kruschen Salts—if you are middle age or old Kruschen shows you the way to lose fat the SAFE way.

"I took one bottle of Kruschen Salts a month for five months. It amounted to $4.25 and I reduced 65 lbs. but it was worth it. Imagine just 22 years old and weighing what I did. I could not enjoy myself as other girls did. I could not get the clothes I wanted. I think it is wonderful the results Kruschen Salts give."

To lose fat the safe, sane way—take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—eat less fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar that costs but a small sum lasts 4 weeks. Get it at any drugstore in the world—but be sure for your health's sake to ask for and get Kruschen Salts. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Experience a Dear School

Experience is too dear a school. It costs too much as a general rule. And the safest way for us to choose is the successful way that others use. It's up to us to apply the thought. That master minds to us have taught. The man who prospers must be wise. And use the experience of other guys. The Hondo State Bank may know about. Some little thing to help you out.

5 reasons for having a telephone

1
"They're opening the plant again? . . . sure I'll be there!"

2
"Why yes, I found your keys on the dresser."

3
"The train is 40 minutes late . . . I'll wait for them."

4
"Please change my appointment to Friday."

5
"Please hurry, doctor. We're worried about him."

THE situations above suggest the countless ways a telephone saves time and worry . . . ways in which it makes life easier and more enjoyable. If you haven't a telephone, we believe you're missing a lot of satisfaction, to say the least. And emergencies do come. At such times a single telephone call may be priceless.

For only a few cents a day, you can have a telephone of your own. No more trips to the neighbors, or the corner store. Call the telephone business office.

"OWED" TO THE LAST PENNY.

By Fletcher Davis.

Hushaby, little penny; don't you pout
Or Morgan will find your hiding place out;
And no matter how tight I squeeze,
You, if you were but to sneeze,
He'll hear you and you'll be gone up the spout!

The growing season is now here. Well tilled crops—to produce the utmost yield—and afterwards a clean harvest to preserve all that has been produced is the most dependable "farm relief" to be had.

The waste of feed, and especially of corn roughage, on many farms every year is little short of deplorable. The corn-fodder harvest season is at hand, and all that can be saved will sooner or later be needed.

FARMING told its readers during the flush times of high prices of every thing was the time to pay off debts, refuse to make new ones not absolutely necessary, and to get ready for the conditions in which we today find ourselves. With equal confidence—barring possible revolutions—we now advise that this is the time for every one who has the initial funds to make reasonable investment.

Don't sacrifice your live stock now just because stock-farming does not pay. To be sure an over-supply is worse than not enough and there is economy in sacrificing the surplus, but the man who holds on to his best animals, sufficient to form a nucleus for getting back in the game strong when the cycle of low prices changes, will come out ahead in the long run. If the pilot forsook the helm because the sea was rough few ships would come home!

The low price of farm produce of every kind has a natural tendency to make us lax in efforts both at production and at harvesting. It will be deplorable if this very natural impulse is yielded to until production and preservation drops below the actual need for sustenance. We think we are seeing misery in these times of depression but we will marvel why we should have complained at these times should that time ever come when the cry for food must be answered with the wail—"There is no bread!" "Waste not, want not—of things produced on the farm—that's the wisest rule."

There is a menace to the peace and safety of this country in the trek of disgruntled ex-service men to Washington. After it was too late, these same boys discovered that they had been thrown into the mud and blood of that European mess in reality to make the world safe for the war-loans of international bankers, and not, as lying propaganda had misled them to believe, "to make the world safe for Democracy!" This has fermented in their systems for more than a decade, and the recent turning down of their adjustment claims at the dictation of these same money lenders has not tended to pacify them any. It behooves Washington to handle the situation thus created with the utmost of tact and discretion.

A DIFFERENT PLAN OF SALVATION NEEDED.

One of the most striking cartoons we ever saw, and one especially appropriate to the present time and prevailing conditions, represented a flock of small politicians milling around like a bunch of stampeded cattle—"running like h— and getting nowhere"—while Uncle Sam, like a Colossus, strides above and among them, swinging a lantern and vainly "Searching For a Leader!"

If there ever was a time when this country stood more in need of leadership—competent, courageous, honest, trustworthy leadership—than right now and had fewer men capable of the role of leader, then we have not read its history understandingly.

Of course, our present plight is the consequent effects of poor leadership in the past; hence the greater need for competent leadership now.

When statesmen in the past pulled up the Ship of State's anchor to the Democratic mooring of equality of all men under the law and made this a government for special interests by the puppets of said special interests, it was but inevitable that the old ship should drift away from the old landmarks and become engulfed in strange and troubled waters.

There she must continue to flounder—if she does not sink—until some pilot mans her helm and steers her back to safe and familiar waters.

Such a pilot has so far failed to show up in the offing!

This country needs, first of all, to be brought back to that Jeffersonian simplicity of government best summarized in the saying, "that government is best that governs least"; in other words, about ninety per cent of the Federal government's activities should be abolished and its machinery junked.

The constitutional duty to issue money and regulate the value thereof should be restored to the government and the practice of farming it out to favored interests should be abolished.

The practice of levying tribute upon the masses for the benefit of special favorites should be ended by tearing down the tariff walls and inviting the peoples of the world to bring us their wares to trade for ours.

The building up of huge fortunes to become a menace to the safety of our nation should be abolished, not through confiscation, camouflaged under excise and inheritance taxes, but by denying monopolistic powers, through the building up of a corporate Frankenstein, to crush the life out of individual initiative and industry.

Where is the statesman with vision to see the way or courage to grasp the helm and point the ship back on the way of safety?

Instead of such a leader, what do we see at Washington?

The party leaders shun the main task and quarrel among themselves over the minor details of makeshift palliative measures of expedience and temporary relief.

What a shameful spectacle! Instead of throwing overboard the excess of useless and cumbersome governmental activities and balancing the budget by looping off the need or the occasion for spending much of the money now so difficult to secure for maintaining our needlessly expensive government, the Congress made a miserable farce of its efforts to reduce government expenses.

Instead of restoring to the government its rightful function of issuing money, it refused to pay—at a saving—its debt already acknowledged.

edged by it to the men who risked their lives at its command in a useless and needless war, because to have done so would have meant a return to that constitutional duty—to the extent, at least, of providing funds to pay the soldiers' compensation—of "issuing money", against the will and dictation of the money lords of the nation.

Not daring to touch the tariff walls from behind which the protective tariff barons levy tribute on every consumer of the land, it dares to impose still greater burdens upon the consumer by proposing a sales-tax on nearly every thing he uses from his cradle to his grave.

And to palliate a suffering people it caps the climax of stupidity by proposing—not to remove the causes of their misery and restore to them their liberty to work out their own salvation on the terms of equality of all men—but, on the contrary, to tax the people some more to pay interest on money borrowed from the money power to be spent on projects which the country can best do without!

Well may the American people pray to be saved from saviors who come with such an ill-starred, ill-considered plan of salvation as has been so far proposed among our leaders at Washington!

THE FARMER WILL PROVE HIS PATRIOTISM.

Despite the fact that much has been said and much is still being said about "farm relief" by government intervention in the farmers' behalf, it is doubtful if the farmer ever received as little real consideration at the hands of his government as he is receiving right now.

In disapproval of that statment, men with selfish purposes to serve will cite the various acts of so-called "relief legislation" of recent years.

But when all of these various proposals are analyzed it is found that the little that was not purely political sop, only intended to hoodwink and silence the farmers' protests, was a mess of socialism or paternalism which sought to relieve his ailments in spots while still leaving him the goat of those governmental discriminations which are the cause, in the first place, of his needing relief and without the removal of which all other plans of relief are farcical and must inevitably end in failure.

And yet this worse than "forgotten man"—this man who bears the burden of supporting his government while, by unfair and discriminating legislation, he is the victim of legalized and protected predatory interests—today more than ever holds the destiny of this country in his hands.

Never possibly in the world's history has there come to any class of men a greater opportunity to prove their unselfish patriotism than is that of the American farmer today.

Discriminated against by his government and made to carry an unjust share of the tax-burden of a madly extravagant government, it would only be human to go on a tax-payers' strike.

Made the victims of outrageous interest rates through his government's farming out to special interests the right to "issue money" instead of exercising its constitutional duty of doing so itself, it would be only human, following so illustrious example of flouted law at the very fountain head, to lose all respect for present constituted authority.

Denied a free exchange of his products for the products of other farmers the world over through a tariff policy designed to fatten special protected interests at his expense, and, at the same time, handicapped at home through extortionate freight rates that are supposed to be fixed by his government on terms of fairness to all, it would be only human to go on a producer's strike and refuse to produce food and raiment for the sustenance of the world.

Let the fatted pets of special privilege and their pliant tools—the time serving politicians—contemplate if they can the ruin such a course would precipitate!

Depressions, deflated values, bankrupt panics, the tramp-tramp-tramp of unemployed millions, all in a land of plenty, are strange and deplorable enough to contemplate, but let revolution, famine and plague follow and we will know that we have not yet—for all of our lamentations—seen the worst of the possibilities that lie in the situation that confronts us.

But notwithstanding the bankrupt condition of statesmanship in the matter of wisdom or integrity to lead us out of our wilderness of miseries; notwithstanding the paucity of patriotism and human sympathy of their masters—the bloated cormorants of special privilege; and notwithstanding the hopelessness with which the farmer contemplates the only possibility of relief—a restoration to him of his right to an equal chance in the pursuit of happiness, the farmer's patriotism may still be trusted.

Given heaven's blessings of brawn, of sunshine and of rain and he will make a generous soil burgeon forth in an abundance that will put hunger to route and make famine an unknown and unfeared evil.

When will a callous world recognize its debt to this man who feeds and clothes it and accord him the reward he rightly earns?

DRYING UP THE SPRINGS OF EMPLOYMENT.

In discussing the question of how taxes bear down on the business man, the San Francisco Chronicle recently conducted an investigation which showed that while the average person does not know what relation his taxes bear to his net income, carefully managed business concerns know to a penny what tax load they are carrying.

A San Francisco merchandising house in 1931 paid 63 per cent of its net income in taxes. A large farmer paid 30 per cent, and on some of his land which produced an income of $5 an acre, he paid $25 an acre in taxes. Another nationally known farming concern in the state paid 84½ per cent of its net income in taxes, with an outlook for no net income this year but with taxes just as high.

The Chronicle says these are not extreme cases and then cites an insurance company which paid between 35 and 40 per cent, one of the big oil companies paid 30 per cent and a big butter and egg man dug up 32 per cent of his net earnings.

Anyone who imagines that soaking an industry from 30 to 80 per cent of its net income in taxes, doesn't soak the laboring man, should think again. Such taxation simply means fewer jobs, for it dries up the source of revenue which create employment. —Industrial News Review.

TO MY DAD.

By Mildred M. Lager.

My dad cares not for dress or looks,
Nor does he read a lot of books;
He is a simple, honey man,
Just try and beat him if you can.

He likes to fish and hunt and trap,
This life to him has been no snap;
He'll never have a lot of fame,
But he is happy just the same.

He uncomplaining goes his way,
He always has a cherry word to say,
He works away with all his might,
And sticks to what he thinks is right.

Today, no matter where I go,
I always want to let him know
That I will strive my best to do,
The things that he would want me to.

I hope some day that he shall see,
That all the things he's given me,
His work, has not been all for naught,
I'll not forget what he has taught.

MY DIMPLE CHEEKED GIRL. (Song Poem)

By Michael D'Andrea.

Across the lake from where we strolled
Romance was found in a dimple,
Upon her cheek of rosy red
O, it played so nice and simple!
Her eyes, they shone—the maid I knew
Was made for me and me alone;
I watched her dimple come and go,
And in her eyes desire shone.

And we were all alone that night,
"Oh, how I love you, dear", I said;
I watched her little dimple's plight,
And then a kiss on it I laid.
And then she bared the dimple's stay
And put her pretty lips to play.
Another gentle kiss I gave,
And lovers two were happy then
Beneath the summer moon so bright.
Now listen to my say:
"Left Dimples are Love's Way".

SHATTERED HOPES.

By M. Rose Akin.

The telephone wires are littered with rags
That languidly float and loll in the breeze
The wreck of the kite once flown with such brags,
Exultant with hope my boy proudly frees.

Alike were my dreams, I sent up to soar
On lovelier wings than any boy's kite,
Mere tatters are left that hang limp before
The stiff winds of life that blast and that blight.

Yet high over all on telephone wires
A song bird peals out his cheeriest lay
And hope lifts again like lovely voiced choir—
I rise as I dream new dreams for today.

SETH PARKER AND HIS JONES- PORT FOLKS WAY BACK HOME.

By Seth Parker Himself.

Idol of the F-30 Colossus of the

You may have heard Seth Parker on the radio—probably you have seen him in his motion picture "Way Back Home"—now treat yourself to the pleasure of his book. Here you will find the same gentle, kindly philosopher who has brought comfort to millions of men and women, boys and girls, in every corner of our broad land. The story (based on the motion picture of the same title) is a simple, appealing human drama of

LONELY FOR THE MOUNTAINS.

By H. C. Davis, Woodbine, Texas.

Sometimes I'm lonely for the mountains,
They're the place that I call home.
I'm lonely for the walls of purple
Reaching upward toward the dome
Of sea-blue sky that o'er-spreads them,
Fading out to purple haze
Where hill and sky to one are blended
And are hidden from my gaze.

I am lonely for the foothills
Wearing springtime's cloak of green,
Soft, long waves of woodland mantle
Over all an emerald sheen.
Black receding to the purple
Where the mountain shadows fall,
I am lonely for its springtime,
And I hear the mountains call.

I am lonely for the forests,
For each budding shrub and tree,
Each pine and oak and elm
I am longing now to see.
Long to walk the woodland carpet,
O'er hills, through dales and all,
Yes, I'm lonely for the forests
And I hear the mountains call.

Mountains, foothills and the forests,
Keepers of the valley stand,
Watchers of the time eternal,
Silent wonders of the land,
Sentries of the solitudes,
Giants of nature gathered all,
I am lonely for their shelter,
And I hear the mountains call.

GIE ME A LASS WI' GOUDEN HAIR.

By A. S. Draper.

Gie me a lass wi' gouden hair
An' music i' her feet,
Gie me a lass wha's free frae care
Wi' smilin' lips sae sweet.

Gie me a lass wha sings wi' glee,
Nae matter where she is,
An' hae her lilt a rune for me,
O' care free happiness.

Gie me a lass wi' sparklin' een,
An' form sae fu' o' grace
That niads gow'd' i' sylvan green,
Will lang to see her face.

Gie me a lass sae cofortin',
Wha radiates wi' love;
Wha warms th' winter heart like spring
An' a' th' cares remove.

Gie me a lass wi' perfum'd breath,
Wi' roses i' her hair,
A lass wha lo'es thru life till death
Shall claim her form sae fair.

Nae other lass I so desire,—
God bless them every one;
May their sweet lives renew the fire
That early time begun.

I lo'e them a' an' thank dear Eve
For fingerin' near the tree—
Sae bring a lass wha doesnae gr'eve,
An' hae her sing to me.

LOVE OR SPRING.

Wendell Tynes, Bluff Creek, La.

I wonder if the roses bloom
Tonight beside the door;
I wonder if the same perfume
Clings to the gown she wore.

I wonder if the breezes blow
Across the meadow land;
I wonder if her cheeks still glow,
And lily white her hand.

I wonder if the skies are blue,
The stars as clear and bright;
I wonder if her heart is true
And if she waits to-night.

I wonder if the locust swing,
Fragrant and fair, the same;
I wonder if 'tis love or spring
That sets my soul aflame.

SPRING.

By Lois Virginia Davidge.

The chaparral upon the hills
Now wears her shawl of yellow frills;
Tall virgin lilies seem to fill
Soft April's breeze with purity;
Strange chanting birds sit calm and watch
The small white snails that climb the tree
While in the sky a great sailed yacht
Glides through that blue lagoon—

As long as man sees lovely things
He will be blessed with lovely Springs!

LOVE IS IN MY HEART.

By James Neill Northe.

Love is in my heart,
And sweet the air to-day,
Sing a song of joy.

Sing a song of joy,
For all the world is happy
Singing songs of Spring.

Singing songs of Spring,
Auguring the summer days,
Love is in my heart.

CRAZY LAND.

By Edw. Emmet.

Have you ever been to crazy land
Down on the looney Pike?
There are the queerest people there.
You never saw the like.
For those who do the useful work
Are poor as poor can be,
While those who are the idlers,
All live in luxury.
They raise so much in Crazy Land
Of food and clothes and such,
That those who raise them starve to death,
Because they raise "too much"!

An Inspiring Message.

There is a message in this book which will inspire every thoughtful American. For Seth Parker knows the real heart of America. Think of it! Seth Parker, or Phillips Lord, is a young man only twenty-nine years of age. Yet letters—hundreds, thousands, and hundreds of thousands of spontaneous, unsolicited letters—testify to the millions of typical Americans who have opened their souls to the kindness and the simple faith of "Way Back Home." With reason can Seth Parker say: "It has been my privilege during the past two years to look into the heart of Ameri-

RADIO STUDENT WRITES FROM AFRICA.

Horace Fohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fohn of near Hondo, is at home from a cruise in African waters for a visit with homefolks. Horace has an interesting collection of curios, gathered on his travels, on display at the Chamber of Commerce Hall. The following is a letter written by the young man while on the S. S. Kamp-paw, on which he is radio operator. Among the many ports of call were Port Arthur, New Orleans, Mobile, Tampa, Santa Cruz, Las Palmas, Dakar, Bathurst, Conakry, Freetown, Sherbro, Marshall, Grand Bassam, Takoradi, Cape Coast, Salt Pond, Winneba, Accra, Cotonou, Lagos, Warri, Port Harcourt, Douala, Kribi, Pointe Noire, Luanda, Lobito, Mossamedes, Banana and Matadi.

Chenier Business College, Beaumont, Texas.

Gentlemen: Since finishing my radio course in the Chenier Business-Radio School in November, 1929, I have had various experiences in operating radio equipment on trips I have made that might be of interest to young people who contemplate a radio course.

My first experience was that of an operator on the S. S. Gulfstream. Our trips were made from the Sabine District to Philadelphia. I thought at that time that I was having an interesting experience but it was nothing until I had my recent experience on my present run to West Africa and the Canary Islands.

My first stop was Queenerisses, on the Canary Islands. This is where Columbus first landed on his way to discover America. The occupation of the people is making and shipping wine. They are of typical Spanish descent. I might say that the island was marked with signs of long inhabitation. People have, no doubt, been there for thousands and thousands of years. You might be interested to know that many ships dock there in order that those on board might enjoy the wonderful climate of the island. One of the mountains on the island is 14,000 feet above sea level.

From this smaller island, we went to the larger Canary Island, called Grand Canary. The Canary birds of this country get their names from these islands because they originated thereon.

From the Grand Canary Island we proceeded to Dakar, West Africa. Here we found an entirely different country from that of the Canary Islands and that visited by us previously. The natives of this port are mostly Mohammedans.

It being a French port, naturally there would be found some French citizens. The dress of the men of this particular part of Africa is very interesting, being that of white robes. Seeing them working, loading and unloading the ships, is quite a contrast from seeing men in this country working in overalls.

In my visit to this port, our ship remained in port for about two days while cargo was being loaded and unloaded. This gave me time to visit the different parts of the town. It is a city of about five thousand people, who are engaged mostly in shipping and agriculture. The principal crop seems to be peanuts. As the town is located seven miles from the Sahara Desert, the land is particularly adapted to the raising of ground nuts, such as peanuts.

The principal imports as discharged from our ship were flour, petroleum, products, and tobacco. We also visited the Firststone Rubber plants in Liberia, where our ship took on a cargo of rubber to be brought to the United States. Lumber, tobacco, flour and other products were discharged at this port and other ports on the West African coast.

The cargo picked up for distribution was Cocoa, Palm Oils and Mahogany, all of which was brought to the United States for local market.

Upon leaving the ports of the United States, we had no difficulty in keeping in communication with land and ships. However, when we arrived in the tropical climate, the atmospheric conditions were such that because of the unusual climate, it was difficult to make contact with ships in port.

Another difficulty was that there were no land stations with which to keep in communication with the ships in port. Therefore, it required much more skill and experience to operate successfully in the South African than West African on a coastwise boat.

The boat was the West Kampgaw, of the American-West Africa Line. Upon entering the port of Belgian Congo, we went up the river about eighty miles, which gave me an opportunity to see that section of the country from the interior. There are a few white people to be found in each colony or possession, due to the fact that these countries are under the direct government of some European country. Regardless of this, however, the natives follow their natural procedure.

There are many more interesting things I might mention about this trip that time and space will not permit. The education that I have gained through travel has been worth many times what it cost me to get my radio training in the Chenier Radio School. I hope that this letter will be of some value to you in inducing other young men to begin training with you. Very best wishes to the school and especially to the radio department. I am,

WHY OUR BOYS AND GIRLS LEAVE THE FARM.

By Juliette Frazier.

Recently while attending a community gathering, I was very much impressed by some of the remarks made by the principal of our local high school. He gave an address on "Why Our Boys and Girls Leave the Farm." In the course of his address he stated that in most rural districts there is an average of seventy per cent of the young folks who enter high school but fail to ever receive a diploma because most of them drop out before they enter their Senior year. Investigation has shown that most of these young people entered high school with the intention of finishing their high school education, but the added burden of studies coupled with the many chores they are required to perform at home causes their life to become monotonous. Consequently, unless the community provides sufficient, proper and attractive amusement to alleviate such conditions, and parents bear in mind that at that time, more than ever before, it is very essential that the home atmosphere be pleasant, and make the home as attractive as possible, these young folks will seek other environments.

So often we hear the complaint that farmer's sons and daughters do not want to stay at home—they "hate the farm"—they seek employment elsewhere; the girls had rather clerk in a department store and live in a cheap boarding house, than be at home helping their mothers, the sons, also, want to try their fortunes in the city. When the children are old enough to be efficient help, the parents find themselves left to the hired help, who have little care to aid them in making and saving money. Meanwhile the parents' hearts are burdened with fears and anxieties for the absent children, and possibly the parental purse is burdened with their business failures.

Indeed it is a great error for parents to think that they have no time to provide their children with plenty of amusements and pleasant surroundings; that they must spend all their efforts on what has a "cash value," being narrow-minded, or near-sighted, they do not perceive that an attractive home has a very decided cash value.

I think that one reason of the restless haste to leave the farm is often owing to a neglect to make the farm and the farm-house attractive. So many farmsteads have a drab, desolate look. No lawns, whereupon the children can enjoy a game of croquet, or tennis, a neglect of a little ingenuity in making a pretty porch and fence for the house-front, and keeping the rooms cheerful and orderly, so that the children may have pleasure in inviting their friends to spend the evening together. All these things contribute to the spirit of dissatisfaction which causes young eyes to pine for more attractive surroundings.

Among my acquaintances there is a couple, who after they were married moved on a farm. I used to think it was the barest looking place on earth. An old broken-down fence, no paths, no porch, no shade, no garden—there was the land, the barns and sheds, a straight wooden house, and some old worm-fences. They moved there in the fall. Mr. Blank as we shall call him now, spent a good deal of that winter in his wood-lot, cutting and hauling wood for himself and for sale, and on top of his loads he would always bring home all manner of queer looking and shaped sticks. The old yard fence was torn down, and used for kindling wood. That place gradually began to change, not by money outlay, for they had a heavy mortgage to pay off, but by constant industry and good sense. Mr. and Mrs. Blank worked away at the front yard, and around the house, every summer evening for years. Those queer sticks grew in two years into a handsome rustic fence. Mr. Blank built with his own hands a large roomy porch, an arbor for grape vines, a rose trellis, and a summer house. His winter evenings were spent in making bird houses, and garden seats; Mrs. Blank got slips and cuttings which she carefully planted in pots; to give her a bit of shrubbery was to give her a treasure, and Mr. Blank carried from the fields and woods promising young shade and ornamental trees.

Today they have as attractive a home as may be found anywhere. They have four sons. Reed and Fred who are married, have settled on farms beside their father's. Dick is in his second year in the state agricultural college, and Jack the youngest who is a Sophomore in high school is not likely to wish to leave home because his home affords him all his heart desires; a tennis court, spacious lawns, swings and hammocks, a fish pond, a swimming pool, and even a little work shop all his own. What anxieties the Banks have been spared; what a home-loving family they have raised, and the happiness they have found in harmonious home surroundings.

Lack of Courageous Leadership One Cause of World Depression

Melvin A. Traylor, of Chicago Cites Human Failure in World War Crisis

"New Era" Theory a Myth

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Reams have been written, countless, addresses have been made, and more will follow in the search for the genesis of the present world depression; and, likely, recovery will come and the crisis be only a memory without there having been found a universally accepted cause or unanimous agreement on methods for the prevention of future defaults.

But I cannot escape the conclusion that the dawn of the present situation broke over the world in July, 1914, and it came not from ignorance of the ultimate results of the course chosen, but because of a complete breakdown of world political sanity.

There was no lack of knowledge of the consequences, but rather of courage to face the facts, to throttle national pride, and to demand common counsel in an honest search for a basis of peace. Such a search might have failed, but, unfortunately, history does not indicate that it was honestly made.

Leadership Was Lacking

I am not a pacifist. Until enlightened understanding points us to the council table of peace rather than to the battlefield, there will be a need for armies and navies. But let us not say that we choose the latter course because of the tremendous costs of the game. Rather let us admit generally the lack of courageous leadership which dares to align itself with the right at the risk of being unpopular.

The point I would make is that, without prejudice as to guilt, the human element did fail in 1914, and the world then began its march to the tragedy of 1930-31. For it is tragedy when in a world of plenty there should be so much poverty, and when, in a nation which boasts of its riches, five million or more people willing to work should be unable to find employment.

It is a challenge to the world, and especially to American business and political leadership, which cannot be ignored and must not be shirked. Causes must be determined with some degree of accuracy and remedies discovered and applied. The task is largely that of business leadership.

We would follow almost endlessly the literature on causes and remedies for the world situation, most of them dealing with the purely economic or the semi-political-economic side of the question. To the lay mind it is all more or less confusing, and to the man at the desk frequently beyond the realm of the practical.

Human Angle of Problem

In speaking more particularly of the character of responsible leadership in America, I am assuming that human conduct has differed little in most countries of the world. It is my purpose to talk about the human side of the problem.

If it is the responsibility of business and political leadership to promote the economic and social welfare of the community, it may be worth while to take stock of our conduct and see how we have measured up to our duty in recent years. This much, however, seems certain. The "new era" theory current in the days of our inflated prosperity was a myth, and is equally valueless in our search of relief.

The forces that have been and are at work are as old as the history of economics. Why should there be in this land of plenty, with unlimited facilities for production, abundant harvests, and a surfeit of credit, millions of hungry and unemployed? It is not the fault of those who would work, but can find no work to do. They have little or no choice in shaping their course and while it is true that society owes no one a living, society as far as humanly possible does owe everyone an opportunity to earn a living.

In that obligation we have failed, and until we know wherein we have failed and why, we will not have found that stability which is the universal desire of mankind today.

Requiring all hired lobbyists to register with the Secretary of State on public record, showing name, address of self and employer, and legislation interested in, and prohibiting such lobbyists the privilege of the floor of either house while in session. I introduced a bill covering this subject.

State regulation of all public utilities, having given my support to that end.

Simplifying the enforcement of delinquent tax liens, reducing penalties, eliminating cost and reducing amount necessary for redemption of property sold for taxes. I introduced a bill covering this subject.

Amending the rules of the House so as to timely cut off the introduction of bills more in keeping with the spirit of the constitutional amendment adopted two years ago.

Following are some of the results of my efforts as your representative:

Proposed constitutional amendment to be voted on in the general election next November reducing more than 50 per cent the amount of profit necessary for owner to pay to redeem property sold for taxes.

Requiring signs on school busses and regulating traffic passing same while stopped.

Authorizing the establishment of agricultural and horticultural experiment station in Southwest Texas.

Authorizing the Board of Water Engineers, in cooperation with the Federal government and Health Department, to geologize underground water supplies in Texas.

Adding standard weight for roasting ears to the general law.

Adding onion and spinach seed to the present general agricultural seed law.

Regulating non-resident emigrant labor agents, requiring license, and also requiring protection to and guaranteeing return of laborers to their homes, unless waived.

Protecting pecan industry by repealing squirrel season in certain counties.

Perfecting certain defects in land titles when instruments on record for ten years or more, eliminating necessity of many suits to perfect title.

Simplifying and perfecting guardianship statutes, authorizing among other things dismissal of guardian by county judge on ground of embezzlement, habitual drunkenness, etc. (sponsored by American Legion.)

Repeal justice of the peace fee law, which was held unconstitutional, and correcting the same so as to conform to the ruling of the court of criminal appeals.

Authorizing Commissioners' Courts (city authorities inside corporate limits) to pass upon maps and plats subdividing real estate.

Simplifying the requisites of briefs and applications for writ of error in the appellate courts materially reducing expense of litigants.

Correcting law so that a last will and testament pertains to after-born and posthumous children the same as other children born prior to the making of the will, where the surviving wife is the mother of all of testator's children and is the principal beneficiary under the will, to the end that all children may be treated alike and that separate administration is not necessary for such after-born or posthumous children.

Authorizing either party in a civil suit to place other party on the witness stand in trial of the case and ask leading questions and not be bound by the testimony.

Rearranging terms of district court in the 38th Judicial District.

Legalizing the holding of rodos.

Permitting use of gill net 4 inches or over for taking destructive fish.

Dove season in South Zone made one month earlier.

Validating road bonds of Dimmit county.

Validating road bonds of Uvalde county.

Pertaining to authority of commissioners' court of Medina county.

Corrected spelling of Zavala county.

I assisted in and supported the following:

Resolution requiring each member of the House to file under oath all corporate connections, which passed and was done, and pledged my support to a bill to require such affidavits filed with the county clerks by all candidates for the legislature.

The law placing limitations upon the power of commissioners' courts to issue warrants.

In the enactment of the child welfare program sponsored by the American Legion.

In the writing and passage of H. B. 13 encouraging terracing and draining of farm lands to conserve soil.

The tick eradication program.

The bill to stop truck theft of goats, sheep, etc.

My standing in the legislature:

I have served on the following standing committees: Judiciary, of which I am chairman; Livestock and Stock Raising; Labor; Conservation and Reclamation; Games and Fisheries; and Congressional Districts. I have served on many special committees, nominated the Speaker of the present House, and am a member of the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

I have been in regular attendance and have, both in and out of the legislature, conducted myself with dignity and sobriety, and more than half of the 150 members of the present House have voluntarily solicited me in writing to be a candidate for Speaker of the next House of Representatives.

BURKETT FORECASTS PECAN CROP EQUAL TO THAT OF LAST YEAR.

Present conditions indicate that this year's pecan crop will equal that of last year when 32,000,000 pounds were produced in Texas, according to J. H. Burkett, chief of the pecan division of the Department of Agriculture, who has just returned from an inspection trip over the West Texas pecan producing section.

"Prospects are bright for a large crop next season," he said. "Climatic conditions have been good and in those sections that did not produce any pecans last year, the chief enemy of pecans—the case nut borer—has been eliminated to a large extent."

"The late freeze last season about ruined the crop from Brownwood northwest, which had the effect of thinning out the case nut borer. This season there should be but a few of these pests in that section to damage the crop. The surplus underground moisture this season, along with other ideal weather conditions, has been very favorable to a large production."

While predicting a large crop, Burkett also pointed out that production may be materially curtailed in localities by storms and accompanying winds, which destroy the nutlets.

An increase in the quantity of nuts of improved varieties is also forecast by Burkett. Last year Texas produced 32,000,000 pounds of the 75,000,000-pound pecan crop of the United States, but only 100,000 pounds of the bumper crop was of improved varieties. Production of high quality nuts through budding native trees with commercial varieties is steadily increasing, he said.

On one very rare occasion an enthusiastic golfer arrived home for dinner. During the meal his wife said, "Willie tells me that he caddied for you all the afternoon."

"Well, do you know," said Willie's father, "I thought I'd seen that boy before."

FARMERS WARNED OF PRACTICES OF FAKE PECAN PROPAGATORS.

Pecan growers are warned by J. H. Burkett, chief of the pecan division of the Department of Agriculture, to exercise caution in dealing with "tree doctors" and advised to consult county agents or well-known established nurserymen before permitting self-styled experts unknown to them to work on their trees.

"Since the pecan has become popular as a commercial nut, it is not infrequent that the pecan grower is imposed upon by irresponsible tree salesmen and so-called 'expert propagators' and tree doctors," Burkett said.

"These fakers usually say that they have the endorsement of some well-known horticultural authority and that they have spent years in acquiring expert knowledge of budding and grafting pecans. They always 'fully guarantee' their work. In some instances it is represented that they have a secret formula that will cure sick trees. The charge is usually $1 per tree. After the money is collected, the 'tree doctor' departs, leaving the tree in a mutilated condition, in some instances," Burkett said in explaining the practices.

"On one occasion an 'expert nurseryman' and pecan propagator contracted to bud 40 or 50 small year-old seedlings with a commercial variety. Inspection of the work revealed that the 'budding' operation was performed merely by cutting off and replacing the same native bud. In this particular instance, the farmer was the victim to the extent of $380," the pecan division chief said.

TRIBUTES TO SCOUTING.

Scoutmaster Ware and Assistant Scoutmaster McClardy visited the Boy Scout Camp Site at Barksdale Saturday, and were well pleased with the type of men and boys that are using our camp. These men are proud of the new concrete floor that has been put in our mess hall recently. There are one hundred and forty men and boys in camp from the Buffalo Trail Council, Sweetwater, Texas, for two weeks. We are happy to have these Scouts and Scouters from our neighbor Council visit us this summer and use our beautiful camp site.

Rev. Geo. W. Truett of Dallas recently said: "The Boy Scout Movement calls for the wisest and worthiest cooperation of all the estates of all the people throughout our entire social order. Here is a Movement to which the home should give its unstinted cooperation. And the home should join hands with the Church and the school. All the estates of the social order may well join hands, earnestly, and go forth with devotion unwavering, to set forward this worthy and far-reaching Movement. The Church may well give to Scouting her unstinted support and whole-hearted approval, when the Church looks to the fine idealism of this Movement."

Honorable Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, says: "Gentlemen of the Boy Scouts of America. To you is due the gratitude of this nation. Through your patient service, and wise direction, you are building into the future that kind of character which is founded upon eternal truth. You built a national fortress set upon the everlasting rock, against which the waves of chance, of passion and of prejudice may dash, but dash in vain."

What Scouting Really Offers The Boy.

Scouting develops the gang life of the boy, giving him and his pals a code of honor.—Scout Oath and Law.

Scouting gives him an opportunity for expression in the "Learn by Doing" process.

Scouting presents a plan for achievement and recognition through the advancement program—Second Class, First Class, Merit Badge rank, Eagle Scout.

Scouting is a true school of democracy.

Scouting teaches him service to others through loyalty—"The Boy Scout slogan: 'Do a good turn daily'."

Scouting with its great out-of-door program gives the boy an opportunity for expression of his desire for romance, adventure, and experience, influenced and directed by approved adult leadership.

The Scout Oath.

On my honor I will do my best—To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law. To help other people at all times. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight.

YOUNG FOLKS LISTEN.

It is time you were thinking seriously about that business education necessary for getting on the pay roll this fall, or being prepared to work your way through college. By entering Byrne College now, you can do what Miss Mary Dell Wilson, the young lady whose picture appears on the enclosed circular, has done. A year ago, now, she was graduated from high school, today she is a well-paid government secretary in the State Banking Department. Hundreds of our graduates who enrolled with us when high school closed last year would not think of giving up their position and be placed back along side of those who did not take advantage of Byrne training last summer.

Don't let the employment question bother you. It isn't bothering Byrne students graduating at this time, for we have a very effective plan of securing positions for our graduates, and as business improves, along toward fall it will be even easier for us to place them.

You would enjoy spending your summer under electric fans in Byrne College. Our work being practically all of the laboratory type makes it so all of the laboratory type makes it so different from the work you have been doing that it will be a rest for you. You will enjoy the association of our splendid student body of fine young men and women. There isn't a finer group to be found anywhere than you will find in Byrne College. Please remember that Byrne College with its seven copyrighted textbooks is the only school that can give you a thorough business course and graduate you by the first of September ready for the pay roll or college.

We invite you to visit us and get our special prices, and also get our plan of making up special courses of study which you can handle under your individual advancement plan. These special courses are made up with a view of giving you just what you want in the shortest time possible and at the smallest possible cost. We give you almost twice as much for your time and money as any other school in the city, but come and see for yourself.

If you have had commercial work in high school, we make a liberal allowance for the advancement already made, for we build on what you have made, for we build on your Office Training. If you only need our Office Training and Employment Service, we are able to make you very attractive prices and terms for this service.

Please call at our office, or write or phone us, at our school very interesting and very different from any other. It is more like a big business office, and our individual advancement plan and our laboratory method of teaching give us an advantage you will appreciate.
